My Place In The Sun

By CPL. DOUG BARRETT

Excerpts from letters from the Canada theater of war operations

On October 8, Thanksgiving Sunday, Rev. Lord held a Harvest service at the Anglican Church at Flying Shot and we represented the Smart farm in the neighborhood church. The edifice itself doesn't amount to much. It was filled to capacity and yet there weren't more than 20 people present. Still, I felt closer to Christianity in that little church than I have in any other house of God. Rev. Lord delivered one of the finest sermons I have ever heard on Thanksgiving. The altar was decorated with fruits of the harvest and you could see the open fields and stands through the windows. Really, it was an experience I wouldn't have missed.

The next morning was beautiful. It was hard to realize that I was in an army uniform in the midst of a war. You know, it was kind of peaceful-like with the birds choipin and the sun rising in what must have been the east.

In the course of my reading I ran across the information that Lake Tahoe, "the highest lake on the North American continent", never freezes because it is very deep and when the surface water gets cold, it sinks and is immediately replaced by the warmer (and lighter) water from its depth. Not important, just a passing bit of intelligence.

I guess the reason I felt like writing was because last night and this morning we have been receiving reports of McArthur's return to the Philippines. That, along with the fall of Aachen to the Americans make this day and date one of the most important in the history of the world.

SNOW STAKE ARE INSTALLED BY CREW

Another sign that winter is on the way, despite the blissful summer days we are presently enjoying, is seen in the installation of the too familiar orange colored snow stakes which have been placed along Highway 40 by the division of highway crews. It can only be hoped that snow never reaches the tops of the high poles.

Norden Man Slays Two Bucks With First Shot In 5 Years

We have had stories about deer hunters who bagged a limit of two bucks in one minute, and one where a Tahoe man downed two four pointers as fast as it took him to change the direction of his shot. But to Otto Frederick of Norden goes the season's banner for shooting achievement.

Otto killed his two deer with only one shot.

Hunting in the Beacon Hill district, Frederick spotted a deer on a slope just below him and took careful aim at the animal's spine. The shot took effect and the nimble ran to the spot. It was then that he noticed the second buck about 50 feet farther down the hill, mortally wounded.

The shot had severed the first deer's spine and sped on to enter the body of the second.

It was Frederick's first deer in five years of hunting and he is having both heads mounted to perpetuate the story which is as rare as a hole-in-one with a golfer.

FIVE FIRES IN THIS AREA CONTROLLED

The late dry fall season and unusually late summer thunderstorms have kept the Truckee fire suppression crew busy the past weekend with five fires that were suppressed before any great damage was done, Forest Ranger H. I. Snider reports.

The thunderstorm Friday caused two fires on Boca Hill, five miles northeast of here and another fire south of Martis Peak was reported but could not be located.

Sunday a peculiar fire was found in the McIver Hill just west of Truckee where apparently some boys had burned some old bones in two pits and covered the fires with dirt. One fire crept into the dry needles and started to spread several days after the boys had burned the bones. Some of the bones were horse bones but may have been used as camouflage, and the real reason for the fire probably was to dispose of illegally killed deer, Snider said.

..Sun.. Beams

by WALTER M. BARRETT

The vital importance of the forthcoming election should in itself create sufficient interest to bring out every voter in the district. We will gamble, however, that there will be a large number who will not find the time to spend the few moments required to exercise this privileged franchise. Aside from the candidates to be chosen for offices of utmost importance, the voter will be faced with deciding the fate of 12 propositions. Many of these questions will have far-reaching effect and should be carefully studied. Take for example No. 1 which proposes a $30,000,000 bond issue for veterans' home loans. That proposal should have the unanimous "yes" vote of everyone. Proof of its economic as well as humane soundness can be reviewed in the similar bill passed after the first world war. We have heard no valid reason for its defeat and support it wholeheartedly.

On the other hand there is No. 11, the so-called $60-at-60 act which is one of the most potentially ruinous suggestions ever to find a place on the ballot. The cost would be astounding and would easily reach $72,000,000 annually, or more than all other states combined are paying for the aid of aged needy. We understand, however, that the issue is given a 3 to 2 margin in southern California. We could not oppose this act if it had been designed solely for the aid of current residents of California, but its danger comes in the fact that thousands would come to this state annually for the sole purpose of getting the liberal allowance.

Probably you have already subscribed to the War Fund drive but just in case you haven't, let us remind you again that you don't have to wait to be asked personally. Leave your contribution at Bank of America where a receipt will be issued. But above all things don't fail to do your share in this important campaign. Our boys overseas and at the domestic camps are waiting to see how well we will back them up with our dollars where interest is not paid and where there is no chance of a monetary return.

TULELAKE VETERANS SUPPORTING ENGLE

A Tulelake veterans' committee today issued a strongly worded statement affirming confidence in the record of Congressman Clair Engle on the Japanese question and at the same time characterized as "politics" an allegation by three state senators that the congressman was soliciting Japanese-American votes by sending letters of sympathy to Japanese because they were interned.

Commander Clark Fensler of the American Legion at Tulelake said his committee had found where the congressman sent only two letters to the Tulelake camp, each a letter of condolence involving a casualty of war with the American army in Italy.

EDITORIAL BY A REPUBLICAN IN A REPUBLICAN PAPER

A CLEAN CAMPAIGN —

By personal knowledge this is what we say of the campaign of Incumbent CLAIR ENGLE, a man doing a splendid job of representing OUR district. Hard-working, and sincere, Engle is not a politician, but a Representative. His endorser are his own people—not someone from the South End of the State, or from San Francisco. The "mud" that a campaign clique appears to have prepared for Engle seems to have "splattered" over their man Mayo. The "Jap-loving" propaganda was worm-eaten wholecloth; the label of the $120 Gold Club was another "deal," and the charges of absenteeism was an unclean myth. The State Senator-Printer appears to be doing all right for himself where he is; but we want Engle because he is a man OF us and FOR our interests. He has been truly representative and we have every reason to believe he will continue so to be.—GRB, in The Placerville Times.

SINGLE PLATE WILL BE ISSUED CAR OWNERS IN 1945 REGISTRATIONS

When motor vehicle owners of this area renew their registration for 1945 they will receive only one license plate instead of the customary two and the single plate will be displayed on the rear of the car.

Steel restrictions imposed by the War Production Board made it impossible to issue plates in pairs. However, the Department of Motor Vehicles announces that recent removal of these restrictions may make it possible to issue two plates for each vehicle in 1946.

The first shipment of the 2,750,000 plates ordered for 1945 passenger cars has arrived at Sacramento from the manufacturer and the number needed to service motorists of this area will be shipped to the local office of the Department in time for the opening of the 1945 renewal, January 2.

The 1945 plates have a black background with dull white letters. In accordance with regulations of the Department, no low or special numbers will be available, the lowest being 1A101. Requests for numbers to correspond with house or telephone numbers will not be granted because of the necessity of removing the plates from the regular order in which they are issued.

FLOW OF PEOPLE INTO STATE CONTINUES, RECORD SHOWS

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 26.—(UP)—The migration into California continues to increase, state officials reported today, despite cutbacks at war plants and other evidences of increasing unemployment.

The California population commission disclosed that according to figures furnished by state quarantine inspectors at the state borders, there has been a 12 per cent increase in the number of persons brought into the state in automobiles licensed in other states and in commercial buses during the first nine months of this year as compared with last year.

An aggregate total of 1,492,897 persons entered the state during the nine months of 1944, compared with 1,333,146 in the same period of 1943, or an increase of 159,751.

The commission pointed out that although no figures are com'ed on the persons leaving the state, the fact that their movement into the state continues to be in excess of what it was previously indicates that the state's population as a whole is continuing to increase.

A commission statement said: "Statements have appeared in print from different industrial centers of the state that there have been heavy movements of workers out of the region. The commission calls attention to the fact that in large industrial activity such as is now being performed in California there are bound to be large movements of people from one part of the state to another.

"The leaving of four or five thousand people, for example, from the bay region in a short period of time does not necessarily indicate that they are leaving the state. On the other hand, an exodus of this number of people from the state would have only a minor effect upon the state's population as a whole."

SEAWELL COMARES TWO CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS

By Sen. Jerrold L. Seawell
 President Pro Tempore
 California State Senate

One of the hottest and most interesting political fights now in progress is between State Senator Jesse M. Mayo of Calaveras County and Congressman Clair Engle of Red Bluff, which will be decided November 7.

It has been my privilege to have served with both men in the State Senate and I have observed their ability as legislators. It is interesting to compare these men, as they are effinite opposites as to type and personality. Senator Mayo is a serious minded, dogged type of individual who can wisecrack, but continues to plod along until he has accomplished his purpose. He is regarded as a sound constructive legislator with a record of 12 years of successful legislative activities.

Mr. Engle operated in a different manner as far as the state senate was concerned. I have not had the opportunity to see him in action in Congress, so will confine my comparison to State Senate activities.

He is the vivacious type—a kind of happy-go-lucky nature—come what may, we will get along somehow. This type meets people well and does make friends quickly. It, however, does not necessarily reflect legislative ability. It is a type that places one's fellow legislators in the peculiar position of liking an individual, but never knowing what to expect, as the serious side is unexpressed for observation and its value undetermined; the net result being that this type does not gain the confidence of his fellow legislators through his lack of confidence, his legislation and his district suffers.

To better express this statement it is interesting to quote from Huxley: "The most valuable of all education is the ability to make yourself do the thing you have to do when it has to be done, whether you like it or not." In order to do this, one must give serious attention to his work. That quotation expresses to Mayo type as compared to the Engle type of legislator.

Protect his Right to Work VOTE NO on 12

Some of these days G. I. Joe will be coming home. He'll want a job—and peace. We can help him by voting NO on No. 12, "Right of Employment," November 7. This proposition attacks trade unions and threatens G. I. Joe's right to work. It would invalidate agreements between management and labor. It would interfere with the war production. It would bring chaos, confusion, industrial strife. It would lower the American standard of living in the post-war era. Protect G. I. Joe's right to work.

An Open Letter to Hon. Clair Engle

HON. CLAIR ENGLE,
CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS,
DEAR SIR:—

Your public statements and accusations made at Yreka on October 5, attacking the personal honesty of Senators Charles Brown, Inyo County, Jerrold L. Seawell, Placer County and myself in connection with the Senate Committee on Post-war Construction, are absolutely false and known to you at the time to be an absolute untruth.

For myself, I expected nothing less. But when you attack the personal character and honesty of honorable public servants of the calibre of Charles Brown and Jerrold L. Seawell, men who were serving the public well and honestly when you were a little boy, then you have hit a new low in common decency. Your slanderous statements were also an indirect attack upon the integrity of Senators Randolph Collier, Siskiyou, H. E. Dillinger, El Dorado and Oliver Carter, Shasta. All have been repeatedly honored by their districts and who sat with the Senate Committee as ex-officio members.

Mr. Engle, there are many public questions upon which you and I sharply disagree, and upon which we may debate publicly. However, in debating these issues with you, I have not and do not now publicly or privately question your personal honesty, nor have I implied that your decisions upon these questions were motivated by other than that of your own personal judgment.

You and I have a public legislative record, mine extends over a period of 12 years, yours almost 2. In that time, we have both taken a stand upon many public issues. You have not only a moral right, but duty to point out any defects in my public record and I assume you grant me the same right. But in doing that, I had hoped we could keep the campaign upon a plane of common decency. For my part, I shall continue to do just that.

For the benefit of debate, here are some of the public questions which profoundly affect the lives of our people and upon which you and I sharply disagree:

GOLD MINING LEGISLATION

On February 7, and again on February 24, 1944, the Congressional Record shows that you voted AGAINST legislation designed to aid the gold mining industry, which provided reserves could be set up to provide money to carry on development work. You have also publicly endorsed and promised to support a heavy federal tax upon newly mined gold.

As a resident and senator in a district largely dependent upon a resumption of gold mining after the war, I am naturally violently opposed to your stand upon this subject. In congress I shall at all times oppose any special tax on newly mined gold.

LUMBER LEGISLATION

On February 7, and again on Feb. 24, 1944, the Congressional Record also shows that you voted AGAINST legislation designed to aid in perpetuating the lumber industry, which provided the industry could take an off-set in tax returns in order to provide funds for reforestation.

Here again, living in a county where the lumber industry is providing a large payroll, I am of course in total disagreement with your vote upon this question. I would have voted in FAVOR of such legislation.

VETERANS' LEGISLATION

On January 26, 1944, you were one of 33 Congressmen who voted AGAINST the final enactment of the $300 mustering out pay law, for discharged service men and women. On three other laws vitally affecting the lives of service men and their widows and orphans, including the so-called "G. I. Bill of Rights" for discharged members of our armed forces of this and the last war, you were ABSENT and did not participate in securing the enactment of these measures.

Your stand upon veterans' legislation is therefore in sharp disagreement with mine. As a former service man, who experienced the problem of finding employment after discharge, I have a profound feeling in this matter and have proposed that the mustering out pay include 12 months pay in equal installments after discharge. I also strongly favor the "G. I." law and would have been present to support its enactment.

MORE GAS AND OIL FOR CIVILIANS

On December 13, 1943, and again on June 14, 1944, you voted AGAINST legislation designed to increase gas and oil production, which it is claimed would have provided additional gas for "A" card holders. Knowing the plight of those living in remote places in this district who have to struggle on 2 gallons per week, I would have voted to increase production, even if it meant a slight increase in the prices of gasoline to the consumer.

ECONOMY IN GOVERNMENT

On January 25, February 15, March 10, March 22, 1944, the Congressional Record shows you voted AGAINST A REDUCTION in non-essential spending of public money by bureaus not connected with the war effort.

Again your stand upon a vital public question is in sharp disagreement with mine. In 1940-41, as a member of a joint legislative committee, I was one of 17 members credited with saving more than 200 millions of dollars for the state taxpayers. In congress I would vote against the present reckless spending of public money in non-essential agencies.

BUREAUCRATIC POWER

The Congressional Record shows that you have voted consistently to grant UNLIMITED POWER to various bureaucratic Federal agencies over the lives of our people. Today that power is being used to strangle the little merchant, the cattle and sheep industry of this district.

I have always fought any proposal to delegate legislative power to bureaus and commissions. In Congress I would exert every power at my command to return the power of law-making to the elected representatives of the people.

OTHER PUBLIC ISSUES

There are other public questions upon which we disagree and which should be publicly discussed. Undoubtedly in my long legislative record, you could find matters upon which we disagree or upon which you feel I used immature or bad judgment, if so, it is your right and duty to publicly call attention to those matters.

But slanderous attacks upon the personal honesty of myself or other members of the state senate who may be supporting my candidacy, have no place in this campaign. Character assassination is the tool of a losing politician. Let's have no more such slander, but keep the campaign on a plane of common decency.

Respectfully yours,

JESSE M. MAYO

TAHOE LETTER

To the Service Men

From SWANEE

October 22, 1944

Dear Tahoeites:

I write you today at the end of another perfect Sunday after returning home from one of those delightful parties, this time a turkey dinner given by ye host of hosts Captain Hans Hansen of Rubicon Lodge. The affair was in honor of S 2-c Norman Dewhurst, husband of the former Miss Mary Jane Soll of Pine Lodge, who is spending the better part of a 17-day leave on our beautiful shore.

He has just finished boot training at Farragut, Idaho, and is now hoping his next stop will be Chicago, where he plans to continue on with specialized radio classes. Those present at the dinner included Mr. and Mrs. Dyke Moore, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Soll, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dewhurst and the host. Cards followed the dinner.

Earlier in the week, Mrs. Soll hosted a dinner in his honor at the family home at Pine Lodge. Guests included the Dyke Moores, Dewhursts, Swansons, a Captain Hansen and Jim Tester.

Monday the Swansons will entertain them at dinner on the eve of Dewy's departure for his new camp in the east.

The Stanley Martins received a letter from Technician Fifth Class Fred W. Hughes at his new post at Camp Swift, Texas, where he was transferred from Colorado. He keeps well and writes as though he might be seeing some foreign courtly before long with the rest of his company. The following information is for his special benefit, since he politely razed Stan for not having his bucks yet. Well Stan likes to import his deer steaks so he went to Austin Nevada, along around September 29 and got in on the first day of the hunting over there, along with Gil Williams and Frank Reed of Minden. The boys stayed for several days and Stan got a buck, a four-pointer that weighed 170 pounds and a doe that weighed 135. on the Reese river. He was content to rest on his laurels therewith and did not bother any Tahoe bucks. Mrs. Martin and Stan, Jr., enjoyed a visit with Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Williams at Yerrington in the interim.

Son Jimmie had another swell letter from Pfc. Pete Vanni at Camp Swift, Texas, and Pete was doing a little KP the day he wrote. He is attending radio school and is now starting lessons on the switchboard operation and laying of telephone wires. Says the weather is turning a little cooler. Sends his best wishes along to all his Tahoe friends and hopes for more letters from them.

Mrs. Weller Atherton learned recently that Lt. William Chapman, husband of her niece, is again laid up in a hospital with another dose of shrapnel, this time in the thigh received during the early days of the invasion in September. He is with the First Army Infantry and was previously seriously wounded by shrapnel in the back and was confined to a hospital in England.

Mrs. Les Perry and infant son who now weighs over 10 pounds, despite his difficult start in life in an incubator, plan soon to leave for North Carolina where she will join her husband, Sgt. Perry, an instructor in the paratroopers. He may receive a furlough soon and come after her.

A recent wedding of interest in Auburn was that of GM 1-c John Gilbert Shingle of Kings Beach and Miss Pauline Steinheimer, former Tahoe Lake school student. The groom is the stepson of the C. M. Walters of Kings Beach and is known by many friends here as Jack Walters. He has been nearly two years in active service in the south Pacific. The couple enjoyed a brief honeymoon at Tahoe before he returned to duty. The best wishes of their many friends for future happiness is extended.

The C. A. Stoddards of Lake Forest now boast two stars in the window, for son, Curtis, 17, is now awaiting call at his sister's home in Los Angeles from the navy. He enlisted on October 4, his brother Lee's birthday and is anxiously awaiting his assignment. His brother, GM 3-c is hoping for another raise in rank in the near future and plans to continue training at an electrical hydraulic school at Washington, D. C. if all goes as planned. He will have been in the service two years next month and observed his 19th birthday this year on duty in New Hebrides.

We learn that Aviation Cadet Walt Mandeville is still awaiting completion of his course at Thunderbird Field in Arizona. Two weeks ago his wife and little son, Skipper left to visit him, since his new assignment may send him clear across the nation. Little daughter, Valerie was left with Mrs. A. C. Stoddard during her mother's absence.

The Floyd Carnells had a pleasant surprise today when son, Dick, called them long distance from Camp Gruber, Oklahoma. Dick is now a corporal. He had a bad cold but was otherwise all well.

Thanks to Mr. J. E. Pomin of Idlewild, I now have the address of Sgt. Joseph Pomin and will be happy to pass it along to those of you who have been asking for it. Last week Uncle Ernie sent in a donation to Bishop Porter of Sacramento for the addition of Joe's name on the Episcopal Chapel's Memorial Wall. Joe is stationed at Altus, Oklahoma and at last reports was doing well for himself. His wife and daughter Joanne are living with her family in San Francisco for the duration.

Had a nice letter from Mrs. Ernie Hoerdler of Tahoe who enclosed a clipping giving details of the beautiful wedding ceremony which took place October 8 in the Voorhis Chapel near San Dimas, uniting their daughter, Patsy Ruth Hoerdler and Stanley C. Geddes, stationed with the army air corps at Fort Summer, New Mexico. The 8 o'clock service was read by Rev. Paul McFarlin in the presence of 75 guests. Lighted only by white tapers in cathedral candelabra, the chapel was decked with baskets of flowers. Mrs. Merwin Murphy played the wedding marches and a group of musical selections prior to the ceremony. The bride was lovely in white satin brocaded gown fashioned with full skirt and fitted bodice, with her fingertip veil falling from the latticed cap wreathed by orange blossoms worn by her mother at the latter's wedding. Miss Betty Jo Johnston was maid of honor and Miss Lucille Clark of Pasadena acted as bride's maid. The best man was Jack Woodward of Baldwin Park and Bill Rogers and Allen Austin served as ushers. An informal reception was held at the home of the bride's mother following the wedding. The refreshment table was presided over by Mrs. Grace Austin, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Clark of Pasadena and Marie Ann Hoerdler, the bride's sister poured the punch. Following a brief honeymoon trip the couple will make their home at Fort Summer. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hoerdler of Tahoe and Covina and was a student at UCLA at the time of her marriage. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Grace H. Geddes, air WAC at Luke Field, Arizona. He is alumnus of Covina high school.

A dozen orchids to Mrs. Stella Watson, chairman of Tahoe's War Chest drive whose efforts in this worthy cause have resulted in the sum of more than $800 being raised.

Am a little excited as I leave you for another week, for on this coming Wednesday son Jimmie, now 17 years and six months old, and I will go to the Reno Air Base around 8:30 a.m. for his first examination for entry into the Army Air Corps Reserve. He is eager to make the grade and we will both have our fingers crossed until it is over.

Hope this finds you all well and right on top the world. We send sincere wishes for good health, good cheer and all the luck in the world. God bless each and every one of you.

As ever,

Congressman Clair Engle Has a Record of Accomplishment

SAYS AUBURN EDITOR

(Reprint from California Mining Journal, October 1944, J. P. Hall, Editor and Publisher).

Voters of Congressional District No. 2, represented in Washington by Hon. Clair Engle, are not going to be fooled by a lot of political claptrap invented by the opposition candidate's manager, Sen. Jerry Seawell. They know that when the senator attended a meeting of the Placer County Republican central committee he urged the committee endorse Engle if Congressman Engle would change his political affiliation. At that time Seawell told the committee that Engle was doing a fine job.

Since then, thousands of voters have remarked that Engle is improving, not only performing his duties in Washington but also in all parts of his district, getting first-hand information on the problems of his constituents and taking immediate steps in their behalf.

Congressman Clair Engle's record is really remarkable for activity and accomplishment and wears the non-partisan label. His one aim has been to improve the industrial welfare of his district regardless of the politics of those he is aiding.

The opposition candidate has had to go to San Francisco and even Los Angeles to get endorsements of his candidacy. The voters of the district have already shown that they do not want Los Angeles telling who their congressman should be in no indecisive figures and will continue to do so at the general election.

Capitol Week

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Charges that the failure of the federal government to announce a definite reconversion policy, particularly for small businesses, is hampering war production in the state were detailed this week by the state reconstruction and reemployment commission.

In a statement released through Governor Earl Warren's office, the commission declared that federal agencies should announce immediately a policy of partial conversion of California war industries to take effect as soon as Germany is defeated.

Holding that there is no overall labor shortage in the state, the commission said that "spot" shortages of skilled workers in critical areas are resulting to least in part from uncertainty of workers as to their postwar job prospects.

"Positive steps to reassure workers as to the conversion prospects, particularly those of small business, can be a powerful factor in quieting the uneasiness which admittedly now is hampering war production," the statement continued.

There is no evidence, the statement said, of a net reduction in the total number of available workers in the state in spite of reports of emigration.

However, in another report the commission took a conservative view of business conditions in the state in the postwar period, saying that per capita income for residents of the state may fall even below that of prewar 1940.

The commission's technical staff said that total income for residents was $11,300,000,000 in 1943, compared with 5,600,000 in 1940. In the first or second year of the postwar period income is not likely to exceed $9,500,000, the commission said, which amount divided among a population at least 1,000,000 persons greater than before the war.

Executive business slowed during the week because of the illness of Governor Earl Warren who was expected to remain in the hospital most of the week.

While in the hospital, the governor received a report from Charles M. Wollenberg, state director of public welfare, that the $60 at 60 pension proposal on the November 7 ballot would cost the state at least $720,000 a year and would result in a rise in the cost of living in California.

Wollenberg, who administers the present aged aid program, was asked by the governor to report on the probable effects of the plan. The social welfare director pointed out that the estimated cost of the plan would be some $40,000,000 more than the total cost of aged aid in the United States for the past 12 months.

Other ballot developments included:

They Are Watching!

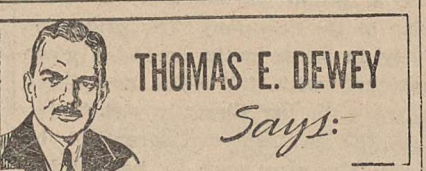

Servicemen in action want to be assured that the home front problems are being taken care of and through your contribution to the California War Chest October 9 through November 11, they will know that USO, United Seamen Service and War Prisoners Aid will continue to function. Home welfare centers and the relief agencies of the fighting allies also receive a budget from the $20,000,000 goal.

1. Qualification for signature gathering of a legislative initiative imposing drastic regulations on labor unions. If some 111,000 signatures are gathered the initiative goes to the legislature and if rejected by the lawmakers goes on the next general election ballot. The proposition apparently was designed as a back stop for Proposition 12 on the November ballot.

2. A ruling by attorney general's deputies that legislators are entitled to expenses during sessions whether or not Proposition 7 on the November ballot is approved. A decision of the supreme court that the lawmakers should be reimbursed for living expenses stands whether or not the proposed constitutional amendment is adopted, it was said.

Persons are more often born deaf than blind.

THOMAS E. DEWEY Says:

"Let's have no more of this pretense about indispensable men. There are no indispensable men. If our Republic after 150 years of self-government is dependent upon the endless continuance of one man in office, then the hopes which ani-

NO ONE MAN! mated the men who fought for the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution have indeed come to nothing.

"I say the time has come to put a stop to everything that is summed up in that phrase, 'the indispensable man.' The peace and prosperity of America and the world can never depend on one man."

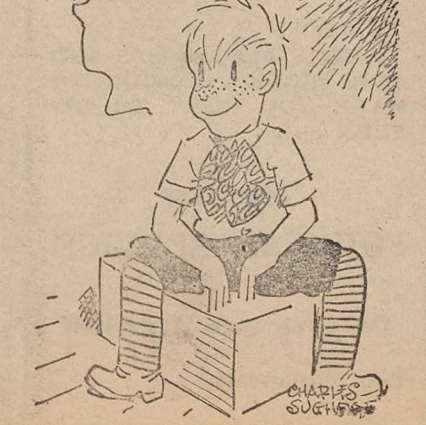

WOMEN VOTERS LATEST TO JOIN IN FIGHT AGAINST PROPOSITION NO. 12

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Adding its powerful support to the many other organizations of state-wide influence that have publicly expressed opposition to Proposition 12 on the November 7 ballot, the so-called "Right of Employment" measure, the California League of Women Voters today is likewise on record against the proposal.

Following a state meeting of the various centers of the league, the following resolution was adopted:

U. S. FORESTER URGES PROGRAM OF REPLANTING OF TREES ON STATE LAND

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 26.—(UP)—It is extremely desirable for the state government of California to "get into the reforestation program more deeply," in the opinion of S. Brevier Snow, U. S. Forest Service regional forester.

Snow, chief administrative officer for the 16 national forests in the state, said that "with growing demands for wood products expected," the state and federal governments should cooperate with timber owners and sawmill men to insure an adequate supply.

He pointed out that restocking is taking place at present to the extent of only 10 per cent of potential growing capacity of "good cut-over lands" and said the public will have to make the necessary investment in their reforestation.

The regional forester, testifying betionably create dissension between labor and management and would work against such full utilization.

fore the Bigger interim committee studying forestry problems in California, advocated a state policy which would encourage private ownership and management of timber lands, at the same time protecting the interests of agriculture, the recreation industry and water resources.

Snow pointed out that wide differences exist in the use and application of hill lands as between northern and southern California. In southern California, he said, the emphasis is on utilizing available water supply to the utmost, while in the northern part of the state the principal use of the forest is for lumber and recreation.

A forest policy which will fit the needs of the entire state and command wide popular support, Snow declared, must take into account "the facts of life" inherent in tree growth.

DO SOMETHING ABOUT IDEAS

Do you know what to do when you find your progress blocked by the man above you? Well, here is what one man did when that happened to him. He is Chris Steenstrup. Born in Denmark, he came to this country when he was 14, and got a job in Schenectady, N. Y., working for the General Electric company running a "punch press." These monster machines seized a sheet of steel, threw it into place and cut it into shape as easily as a dressmaker would run a pair of scissors through a yard of rayon.

One day a workman at one of the machines made a slight wobble, and had two fingers cut off. Chris was touched by what he saw, and began to figure out a way that a man's fingers could be protected from such machines. He had an idea and he proceeded to do something about it. That night, when the supper dishes were cleared away, he got out some paper and pencils and started to design a machine so that it would work efficiently and yet not mutilate its operator.

When he had the design completed he handed it to his foreman. In that day that was the only thing a person could do—go direct to his foreman. The foreman inspected the design, said it was an old idea and didn't amount to anything. Well, that would be the end of it—ordinarily.

But Chris knew he had a good idea and so he tried to get the foreman to see it from his point of view. The foreman became as stubborn as a Missouri mule and finally said the whole thing was a crackpot idea.

Chris Steenstrup didn't know what to do. He was determined to show the foreman the idea would work. The foreman was on a leave of absence for three days, so Chris made a device and put it on his machine. When the foreman came back he was mad and fired Chris then and there.

Chris still would not give up, so he went to the plant manager, over the foreman's head, and showed him the device. The plant manager was impressed and put Chris to work in another department. The foreman who had fired Chris was mad enough to spit cotton.

Chris' idea was adopted—in fact it started the system of offering cash rewards to employees for ideas. During the first ten months of 1942, the company paid $115,000 to employees for ideas. What happened to Chris? Well, starting with this, he has 113 patents in his own name, and is still working for the company—this humble foreign-born workman who started something new in America.

So if you are bottle-necked by the man above you, do all you can to work with him and win him over. Be patient, considerate, but also be determined. If there is no other way, then go over his head. The important thing is the value of the idea, not how one man may feel.

"The U. S. Army Medical Department urgently needs you now"

MAJOR GENERAL NORMAN T. KIRK
Surgeon General U. S. Army

If there burns within you a sincere desire to do something active and important to help win the war, here is your opportunity. Join the WAC—serve in the Army Medical Department, where women are vitally needed now. You can help bring the war to a quick, successful end. You can help bring our loved ones—your loved ones, perhaps—home sooner. And you can learn a valuable technical skill that may be the foundation of a career after the war.

With the biggest battles of the Pacific still ahead, the West must take a still more active part in the war. You are needed here, in Australia perhaps, or elsewhere behind battlefronts, to give our men the needed attention. The care and rehabilitation of the sick and wounded is a woman's noblest work. Get into it if you can. If you are between the ages of 20 and 50 and have no children under 14, or other dependents, call the nearest U. S. Army recruiting station.

SENATOR SEAWELL ADDS SUPPORT TO QUESTION NO. 3

Added today to the large list of California leaders on record for a "yes" vote on Proposition No. 3 on the November ballot was Jerrold L. Seawell, president pro tem of the California State Senate. Explaining his stand Seawell said:

"Proposition 3 concerns salaries of five of the most active officials in the state, namely, state controller, state treasurer, secretary of state, superintendent of public instruction and lieutenant governor, whose salaries were frozen by the State Constitution 36 years ago, and before California had its present tremendous population of 7,500,000.

"Considering duties and responsibilities involved the salaries are ridiculously low. Deputies and assistants whose salaries have been adjusted whenever necessary, in many instances receive higher compensation than their elected superior officers.

"Let's make the law uniform and equitable and give the legislature power to fix the salaries of these five key officials."

THE MAN AT THE KEYHOLE by OPERATIVE WB

Tax experts and business men, who see red whenever they think of the BILLION-DOLLAR-A-YEAR TAX BILL wrapped up in the so-called $60-at-60 pension plan act, got the shock of their lives last week when returns from a public opinion poll showed the proposal leading in southern California by a 3 to 2 margin. In Northern California, the returns went against the scheme—but the outcome, if the election was held today, would be exceedingly doubtful.

Mary Pickford, "America's Sweetheart" of the silent screen, has joined the campaign for the Better Schools Act on the November ballot. Ditto Joe E. Brown and Edward Arnold!

Democratic Vice Presidential Candidate Harry Truman, with his frank talk about political bosses being okay if they were on "your side", made no votes for the Roosevelt ticket in his California tour, our spy reports. News men who interviewed him admired his candor, but came away doubting his political sagacity.

CAR REGISTRATION IN CALIFORNIA INCREASES DUE TO WAR ACTIVITIES

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 26.—Unprecedented activities in California's war industries is resulting in substantial increases in motor vehicle registrations despite the fact that few new vehicles are being sold, the Department of Motor Vehicles announced today.

Director Gordon H. Garland revealed that 2,472 more vehicles were registered in the state during the first nine months of this year than were registered during all of 1943. Total registrations to September 30 were given at 2,947,044 vehicles against 2,944,572 for all of 1943.

Increases have been largely in heavy commercial trucks and trailers used in essential war industries.

INCREASED USE OF MILK ACCOUNTS FOR HIGH POINTS

People are drinking 25 per cent more milk. People who could not afford butter before the war are buying all they can get now.

America's armed force inductees are eating more butter than they did in civilian life.

According to Wayne Courtwright, Sacramento district OPA food rationing officer, these are three good reasons for the scarcity of butter and its rise in ration point values to 20 points a pound.

Courtwright said it was untrue that dairymen are converting cattle into beefsteaks and pointed to a 15 billion pound milk and cream increase as compared with the 1935-39 level. The OPA rationing officer said the government was reluctant to cut back the fluid milk supply because of its high nutritional value in the national diet. All butter produced now is going to civilians, Courtwright stated. The government's 20 per cent of the total supply is bought during the heavy production months starting with April and running through September. Five pounds out of every 100 pounds go to Russia where it is used chiefly in hospitals.

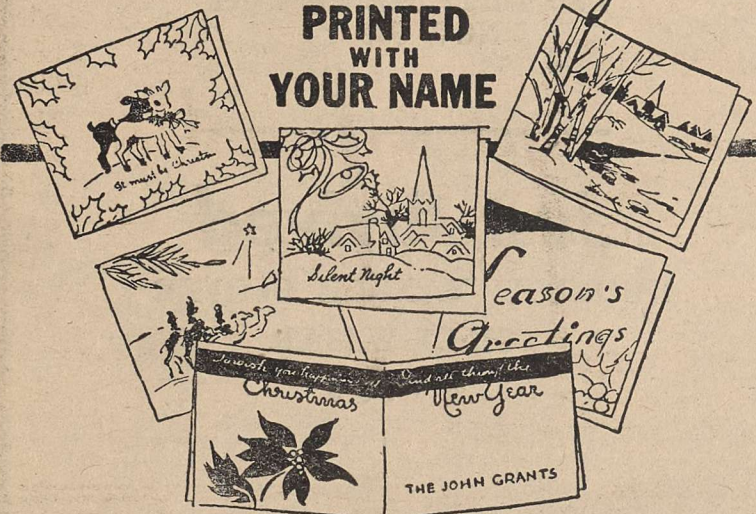

COLD STORAGE TURKEY HOLDINGS SET RECORD

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 26.—(UP)—Although cold storage turkey holdings in California dropped 1,827,000 pounds during September, the October 1 total on hand of 3,563,000 pounds was the heaviest in history for that date, the Federal-State market news service reported today.

Sierra Tavern Anniversary

TO OUR FRIENDS AND PATRONS:

Today marks the first anniversary of our arrival in Truckee to take over active management of the Sierra Tavern Hotel, and we pause in our routine efforts to say "Thank You" for the fine cooperation we have enjoyed during the past 12 months. We have sincerely enjoyed the year. We have found the people of Truckee and vicinity most helpful and realize that it was only through your assistance and cooperation that the year has been marked with success. However, we are not satisfied with the results of one year's business in Truckee and will continue our efforts to increase our value to the community during the years to come. We shall go ahead with the many improvements we have made on the Sierra Tavern and trust that you will be patient while we develop what we propose to be the best little hostelry in the region.

Thank you again for the part you have played in our achievement during the year. We trust we can count on your continued cooperation.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Ernest DeLisle.
